issued by the Secretary of the Treasury in the name of William J. Aiken in payment for land taken in square 323, this city, for the post office site. The work of paying for the square is almost completed, and it is expected by the officers of the Treasury Department that by October 1 every title will be vested in the government, and then the supervising architect can begin the preparation of plans.

There are thirty parcels of land in the square, in seventeen, of which payment has been made directly to the owner. In nine cases there are contests as to ownership, and there are now pending in court applications for orders to pay the money to the court, to be turned over later to the proper person. These orders will be issued in a few days and the delivery of the warrant will constitute a final payment in the eye of the law as far as the title of the govrnment is concerned.

Early in the morning spectators began to assemble, gathering in groups and watching the practice of the two teams and discussing the probable outcome of the match.

The Philadelphians were first on the field for practice. At a few minutes before 11 loud applause announced the arrival of the Englishmen. They were driven over from the Wissahickon Inn, where they are stopping, in E. Rittenhouse Mider's tally-ho. Only a few minutes was devoted by the visitors to practice, and then all retired to the club house, where Captains Hawke and Brockie tossed for choice. The Englishman won, and at 11:25 play was begun with Wright and Hewitt at the tat. The teams are as follows:

Philadelphia—W. Brockie, captain; G. S. Patterson, F. H. Bohlen, F. E. Brewster, F. W. Ralston, it., R. D. Brown, H. I. Brown, C. Coates, jr., S. Law, H. P. Bailey, H. Scott.

England—Lord Hawke, captain; Lord Throwley, Hon. H. Miles, S. M. J. Woons, K. J. Key, H. T. Hewitt, G. W. Ricketts, C. Wrewford Brown, J. H. Hornsby, C. W. Wright, G. W. Hillyard.

BRITISH RULE MENACED.

London, Sept. 25.—Calcutta advices state that the viceroy is much alarmed by the sullent tone of the native populace, who have been particularly aggressive of late. The age of consent law is said to be the chief foundation for popular anger. It is interfering with the customs of the Hindoos more than was at first expected, and several husbands have already been prosecuted for taking child wives home under the legal age. The priests are especially aggry at the bill, which tends to deprive their order of certain old-fashioned privileges. The lack of cohesion among the natives is the strongest factor in making successful rebellion almost impossible. At the same time many Europeans claim that British rule in India is really in danger, owing to the rash course of the viceroy both in domestic affairs and in the severe punishment of the leaders in the Manipur insurrection. The rulers of the feudatory states of India are said to feel uneasy in consequence of the way in which the royal family of Manipur was treated, and they are asking each other what the fate would be of any other Indian prince who might be driven by intolerable tyranny into armed resistance against British authority. The hanging of the Senaputty was especially offensive to the Hindoos, that being considered a most disgraceful form of execution, and although England has not formally annexed Manipur, the state is to remain virtually within complete control by English officials. All these circumstances go to influence the Hindoo mind and make it receptive of disloyal sentiments against Great Britain.

CONNECTICUT'S CONPLICATIONS.

Prisoner named Frank Wallace, convicted at Washington, D. C., of assault with intent to kill and sentenced to the Albany pententiary for a long term, is among the convicte in the chair shop. He is a big surly fellow, and has been a source of trouble and annoyance ever since his incarceration on the hill about two years ago. He is about twenty-eight years of Yesterday he was reported to Supt. McIntyre for some misconduct. The superintendent, accompanied by Clerk Bowers, went into the shop, and as they approached the bench on which the negro was he grasped one of the knives used by the prisoners for cutting cane and sprang at Mr. Bowers. The latter struck his asseilant on the wrist with a small stick he held in his hand, knocking the knife from the man's-hand. The enraged convict, not to be thwarted in his murderous purpose, picked up a hammer and struck Mr. convict, not to be thwarted in his murderous purpose, picked up a hammer and struck Mr. Bowers two blows on the head, felling him to the floor. Mr. Bowers jumped up and, with blood streaming from his wounds, grabbed his assailant and a tussle ensued in which Mr. McIntyre took a hand. The sight of blood seemed to madden the negro. He became like an infuriated beast. He jumped to the top of the bench and ran from one bench to the other
